Interior Design

Time for Change...

Lets Chat...

We are so excited with all the new ventures that we are starting! We have been working all over the map with design projects and have come up with a new idea: E-Design! We think this is a fabulous opportunity to hire Designing Women from anywhere in the country, or the world for that matter, at a more affordable design fee. We can now offer you not only a designer for a day but now anything from getting an expert opinion, purchasing products for your home, designing just one room, or designing your entire home all online! For those of you that have been here and worked with you we invite you back for your next adventure!
